Novel Weight Management Product Expands into the Network Marketing Industry

Wellosophy™ Corporation Announces the Exclusive Source of Supply and Purchase Agreement with ForeverGreen International, LLC (OTCBB:FVRG) for SWELL® - a revolutionary Hunger-Control hydrogel bulking technology

Folsom, CA – July 1, 2008: Wellosophy™ Corporation is pleased to announce that it has entered into a private-labeling agreement with ForeverGreen International, LLC (OTCBB:FVRG) for the commercialization of FORM™ - ForeverGreen's trademarked brand name of Wellosophy's SWELL® microbead ultra-pure polyacrylate hydrogel technology.

The Technology: SWELL® is a proprietary pre-meal gastric bulking agent used as an adjunctive tool for people seeking to lose or manage their weight. The SWELL® material is a member of the same chemical class as other bio-inert carbomer compounds that are marketable under the FDA's 1994 GRAS ("generally recognized as safe") exemption and which have been extensively used worldwide for decades in a wide variety of products including: medical devices, food and pharmaceutical applications, as well as nutritional supplements.

Clinical Evidence: SWELL® recently completed a promising multi-center clinical trial that evaluated 30 overweight volunteers at four physician-managed weight loss clinics. While not definitive, the study's results demonstrated that the SWELL® technology enabled the participants to comfortably reduce meal portions by an average of 34% and documented steady progressive weight loss averaging 7.6 pounds over the 4 week study period - without any significant side effects being reported. Additional studies are being planned to evaluate the safety and efficacy of SWELL® in adolescent children and adults with Type II Diabetes.

Simple Mechanism: Each SWELL® microbead has the remarkable ability to gently expand up to 1,000 times its size in the stomach when activated by water. When taken 30 to 60 minutes prior to meals along with an 8oz glass of water, the hundreds of SWELL® microbeads in each capsule collectively expand within minutes to fill a volume about the size of a large apple. The expanded microbeads have a very slippery gel-like consistency much like caviar and promote a sense of early satiety (fullness) with the initiation of the meal. The indigestible bio-inert beads are retained in the stomach for 2 to 3 hours; then safely pass through the GI tract and are eliminated naturally - without any known harmful side effects.

Lior Sher, Wellosophy's CEO stated: "We are delighted to work with ForeverGreen in their efforts to assist people to lose weight on their way to achieving a healthier lifestyle. SWELL's simple pre-meal gastric bulking mechanism allows people to take control of their hunger so they can comfortably eat less of the foods they like, but without feeling hungry. We are confident that the SWELL® technology will prove to be both a versatile as well as a powerful hunger management tool that can enable people everywhere to improve their quality of life."

FORM™ is delivered as a two-piece gelatin capsule containing 500mg of the SWELL® microbeads. ForeverGreen's CEO Ron Williams stated: "There is sincere excitement and enthusiasm surrounding FORM™ and our ability to offer this exciting product first to our distributors. The potential for this product in the Network Marketing industry is what is exciting our existing distributors and attracting seasoned leaders across the industry."

About Wellosophy: Wellosophy™ Corporation is a privately-held, woman-managed, consumer healthcare products company whose mission is to provide highly proprietary, clinically tested health and wellness technologies to people seeking to improve their quality of life with reasonably priced, high-value products that make a real difference in people's lives. The SWELL® technology platform is highly versatile and is being rolled out under the Company's own brand names as well as through a series of non-exclusive private labeling relationships within the multitude of distribution channels that encompass the weight loss market; which is arguably the largest OTC industry in the world. Beyond capsules, alternative ingestible forms containing the SWELL® technology including energy drinks, nutrition bars, diet shakes, puddings and numerous other applications are currently under development.
